Relocation Company Named First Certified Green Business Mover

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (July 13, 2010) –All American Relocation, a provider of global commercial and residential relocation services, has been approved as the first “Certified Green Business” Moving Company by Sustainable Sandhills. Sustainable Sandhills is a nonprofit organization dedicated to fostering a love and understanding of sustainability in the eight county region surrounding the BRAC, Fort Bragg and East Central North Carolina area. This region contains the entire Sandhills Longleaf Pine Ecosystem, one of the 21 most endangered ecosystems in the world.

“There has long been a national directive for all government and private businesses to be friendly to our environment. Our owners acknowledged this quite some time ago, and we have been practicing many of the methodologies as recommended and required in order to be certified eco-friendly” says Frank Ferraro, All American Relocation Specialist.

In addition to providing commercial and residential moving services, All American is a DOD (Department of Defense) Transportation Service provider. The Sustainable Sandhills Certification required All American to meet, and exceed, all requirements of government bids, proposals, and relocation requisitions. As a result All American is better positioned, and more qualified, to service additional military and civilian business opportunities.

About All American Relocation:

Headquartered in Raleigh, All American Relocation is an agent for Mayflower Transit and United Van Lines. After acquiring ownership in 1998 of the 30 plus year old West Brothers Moving and Storage operations and facilities, new owners Brett Plummer and John Potts expanded All American Relocation services to include: local, national and international residential relocation, commercial relocation, furniture sales and installation, asset management and distribution services. All American operates facilities in Fayetteville, Raleigh, and Charlotte, NC. With the belief that the customer is the company’s biggest asset, All American Relocation strives to deliver the most professional relocation services in the industry.
