Furniture Case Study

Client: Quintiles

Project: Bradford Expansion 2007-2008

Scope: 161 Workstations, 6 private offices, 2 conference rooms

Products: AIS Matrix, Humanscale Ergo & Groupe LaCasse

Overview: The President of Quintiles was driving the new furniture typical to be a lower height panel. With changing the height of the workstations we needed to provide solutions to the end user because of the lack of overhead storage. Our solution was to create storage that provided additional drawer space, bookcases and coat closet. Lower height panels also meant the loss of under mount lighting. All American provided lighting solutions to the end user that was flexible & significant. Quintiles standard workstation was 7 feet by 8 feet. We stayed within these dimensions but we changed the components to be more up-to-date & user friendly.

All American's design was flexible and aesthetically pleasing. All American met all of Quintiles needs and stayed within the budget.
